

A Seeds of Compassion Workshop

Compassionate Health Care for Children & Families

Doctors and the child health care system can build the foundations for compassion by partnering with parents to promote child health and social, emotional, and cognitive development.

Sunday April 13, 2008
10-11:30 am
Lopez Room
The Seattle Center

Presented by

- Jill Sells, MD, Docs for Tots and Reach Out and Read Washington State
- Ben Danielson, MD, Odessa Brown Children's Clinic
- Mary Ann Woodruff, MD, Pediatrics Northwest, PS; and Reach Out and Read
- Patty Hayes, RN, MN, WithinReach

Join us to learn about

- The medical home model for children
- The Reach Out and Read literacy program
- WithinReach's toll free numbers and Parenthelp123.org website for families to access health and nutrition information and referrals

The workshop is free, no registration or tickets required

Seeds of Compassion is an initiative to nurture kindness and compassion in the world, starting with children and all those who touch their lives.

For the latest news, information, and opportunities, visit Docs For Tots Washington State online:
www.DocsForTots.org/DFTWA.asp