Doctors and Early Childhood Partners are Invited to a Discussion on

The Status of Young Children in Washington State: What Pediatricians Think

Docs for Tots recently surveyed pediatricians throughout Washington state about their concerns for young children's health and early learning. Join us as we discuss the results of the poll, current activities, and ways Docs and partners can work together to improve outcomes for children.

Early Learning Opportunities in Washington State

There is exciting momentum around early learning in both the public and private sectors. Join us for updates and a discussion about collaboration from Washington state leaders in the field.

Presenters

Sangree Froelicher Assistant Director- Systems Collaboration, Department of Early Learning, Washington State

Garrison Kurtz former Director of Programs at the Foundation for Early Learning who has recently joined the public-private partnership for early learning, Thrive by Five Washington
